WHITEFRIARS
Canterbury

For the third year Canterbury City Council and Produced in Kent are delighted to bring the very best Kentish and European food and drink to Canterbury.

The city's annual Eurofair with the Kent Food and Drink Festival takes place in the Dane John Gardens from Friday 24 to Sunday 26 September, offering shoppers some of the finest products to tickle their taste buds. For the second year the event is sponsored by SeaFrance and there is even more on offer as we're delighted to have extended the festival site to include a medieval and world food market in Canterbury's historic castle grounds.

A wealth of more than 100 stalls, including around 30 local companies from Produced in Kent, will be presenting a fine array of food and drink, while across the city centre, restaurants and businesses will have special offers supporting the Eurofair theme.

There will also be food demonstration areas and tastings, plus plenty of music and entertainment over the three days including a return visit from BadaBimBumBand – the Italian strolling band that wowed the crowds at the festival in 2008. Entertainment will also be provided by local street musicians, music on the bandstand and morris dancing on Sunday*. We're also delighted to welcome back the 'Little Lounge' area which is packed with fun and entertainment for our younger visitors.

Full details about all stallholders, food demonstrations and the special offers in city centre businesses can be found in this programme. For all the latest information visit www.canterburyeurofair.co.uk.

You can also get up-to-date information on the event and its organisation by following us on Facebook or Twitter.

The stalls will be open from 10am to 5pm on Friday 24 and Saturday 25 September and from 10am to 4pm on Sunday 26 September.

We hope you enjoy your time here in Canterbury. We've included a list of forthcoming events at the back of this programme to help you plan your next visit, so come back soon!

Julian Herrington, The Beer Academy

Julian has a vast experience in developing beers through his career as a master brewer. He contributed much to the Cask Beer revival while at Shepherd Neame, Faversham, but moved to Meantime Brewing to help produce their range of bottled lagers, ales and speciality beers. He now works with the Beer Academy to help others to enthuse about beers.

'Madame Oiseau' moved to Canterbury in May 2005. Here the chocolate flows faster, the team is growing and it takes pride in creating high-quality, unique and exciting chocolates.

Rob, The Farmhouse, Canterbury and Phil Miles, Godmersham Game

Phil is the proud owner of 'Godmersham Game'. He personally sources with extreme care all his game from Kent, always following seasonality and the rhythm of nature. Phil loves cooking game, often experimenting with new and exciting mouth-watering recipes.

Sam Wydymus, The Coastguard, St Margaret's Bay

Sam is probably best known in the region as BBC Radio Kent's food Historian with her regular slots on the Pat Marsh show. Sam 'retired' to Kent 8 years ago to run The Coastguard Pub and Restaurant in St Margaret's Bay, with her husband Nigel, and is totally dedicated to producing imaginative menus using the finest produce from the surrounding area.

Rob Kirby, Master Chef of Great Britain

Learn top tips on producing sexy summer dishes from the garden of England. Rob is a key spokesman for the food industry and has appeared on national television for 'Saturday Kitchen' and has commented on various foods related topics on BBC Breakfast News. He is a Master Chef of Great Britain and winner of various awards including Contract Chef of the Year.

Corinne Goodman, Corinnes Creative Kitchen

Born in Madras, Corinne's culinary influences are mainly South Indian. She started Corinne's

Creative Kitchen to promote REAL home-style Indian food, now available through farm shops and home delivery. Corinne's dishes are probably the most authentic you will ever taste.

Dev Biswal, Hannah's Dining Suite and The Ambrette

Dev is passionate about cuisine from the Indian sub-continent. And in order to promote authentic Asian cuisine to fine dining status in the UK, he opened The Indian Princess in Margate which quickly became highly acclaimed. Recently rebranded as The Ambrette, the restaurant menu features dishes using a delicate blend of flavours and spices to create a unique culinary art.

Ian Mather, Quex Barn

Ian Mather is the owner of Quex Barn, a farmers' market and restaurant in Birchington. His passion for local produce is only matched by the quality of that local produce. Ian's speciality is meat. He rears much of the meat that is on sale in the barn, while the beef is from in the surrounding fields of the Quex Estate.

Mo Joslin, Farmhouse Kitchen

Mo Joslin is the author of the cookbook 'Kentish Fare'. She has also developed her own line of jams, jellies and chutneys under the Farmhouse Kitchen label. Mo strongly believes that good food comes from good ingredients, simply prepared without the use of unnecessary additives.

Sandrine May, Madame Oiseau

After the opening of her first shop in Romney Marsh, Sandrine quickly started supplying retailers such as Liberty and Wedgewood. An appearance in the Sunday Times Magazine sparked a great deal of interest in the shop and Catering for kids from big to small, there's a host of activities and workshops to keep you entertained, all taken from what The Times called one of the UK's

'Best Family Festivals'.

Lots to eat

Lots of fun

Castle grounds entertainment

The World Village

The World Village is a unique street market with a festival feel featuring exotic world cooking, homemade, healthy and traceable foods together with ethically traded, handmade, eco-friendly arts, crafts, clothing, jewellery, accessories and original ideas.

Buskers' Stage

Another new addition to this year's event is the Buskers' Stage in the castle keep. Some of the best street entertainment acts from around the south east will be coming to Canterbury. Featuring many musical styles from bluegrass to classical, there's bound to be something to suit all musical tastes, so dig deep and support your favourite act!

Medieval Market

For those of you with a taste for the more traditional, the castle grounds will also be hosting a medieval market. Try pork chops washed down by a glass of mead, herb sausage with a hunk of bread accompanied by a goblet of rich red wine recently seized from across the channel. There promises to be quite a gathering of characters from this bygone age, with Royal visits and traditional craft demonstrations. So, don't be surprised if Henry V sits down beside you in the castle picnic area - he may want you to try his food first as it would not do for the King to be poisoned before one of his loyal subjects!

The castle market has been organised by the Market Square Group

CANTERBURY

SIMPLY INSPIRATIONAL

Visit Canterbury and discover a vibrant and colourful city that has a captivating mix of history, culture and architecture that charms millions of visitors each year.

World Heritage Site

The centre point of any visit to Canterbury is the Cathedral. 1 Together with St Augustine's Abbey 2 and St Martin's Church 3, it is declared an UNESCO World Heritage Site.

Historic Buildings

Canterbury is home to Greyfriars, 4 Britain's oldest Franciscan building which spans the River Stour. See the ruins of a Norman castle 5 keep and walls and the Westgate Towers 6 which has stood over the road to London for six centuries.

Tours

Let The Canterbury Tales 7 whisk you back to medieval times as you listen to Chaucer's stories of love, romance and jealousy.

River Tours

Canterbury is ideal to be explored by boat. Take a trip along the Stour with Canterbury Historic River Tours 8 River Navigation Company 9 or Canterbury Punting Company 10.

Walking Tours

The city is also perfect to discover on foot. A 90-minute tour with one of our experienced guides is available most days. 11

Museums

Discover the city's history in the Museum of Canterbury 12 through hands-on displays and activities. This museum also hosts the collections of the Royal Museum and Art Gallery that is currently closed for redevelopment. Step below today's Canterbury to the Roman Museum 13 and discover what life was like in Roman Britain. The West Gate Towers Museum 6 houses collections of guns and armaments and you can also look through the murder holes and climb the battlements.

Shopping

The bustling Whitefriars 14 shopping centre can be found in the heart of Canterbury. Many of the high street names are here selling the latest fashions and big-brand designs. But there are also a large range of independent retailers to be found in the old cobbled streets of the city, in particular the unique King's Mile 15.

Gardens

Relax and enjoy the beauty of one of Canterbury's city gardens. Just yards from the shopping centre is Dane John Gardens 16 providing views of the city from the top of the historic mound. Alternatively you can absorb the tranquil beauty and stroll around the delightful Westgate Gardens 17.

Relax

Approximately six miles from the city is the TOR Spa Retreat, an Ayurvedic Spa providing a range of therapies in a relaxing setting. Alternatively, if you are looking for a facial, massage or other beauty therapy, call in at the Visitor Centre to obtain a list of venues.

Did you know the coast is only a 20-minute drive away?
